

The Virtual Resident:

Tips + Tricks for teaching in a virtual care environment

May 21, 2020
7-8 PM via Zoom

Session Description: This session is for Family Practice preceptors (especially those unsure of their capacity to teach residents in this new virtual environment) as well as faculty development teams. This session will be in a webinar format with a 30 minute presentation and plenty of time for questions and discussion.

Session Outcomes: By the end of this session preceptors will be able to identify common barriers to teaching virtually and develop strategies to address them, including:

- Adjusting to new technology and work flow
- Optimizing the virtual care visit
- Addressing decreased patient volumes
- Teaching and assessing learners virtually
- Improving patient acceptance

Presenter: Dr. Krystine Sambor

Dr. Krystine Sambor is the Medical Director of the North Shore Medical Group, a Board Member of the North Shore Division of Family Practice, and a Peer Mentor with the Doctors Technology Office. She has spent the last 15 years leading peer to peer sessions, small group learning sessions, lectures, and webinars to support fellow physicians with EMR and workflow optimization. During the recent Covid pandemic, Krystine has been putting all those skills to use helping her colleagues adapt to the rapidly changing technology landscape, including publishing a series of Virtual Care Webinars. Despite all her experience, she still faced challenges when incorporating resident teaching into her own practice. Krystine is looking forward to sharing some of her lessons learned and hearing the experiences of her colleagues.
